MERRIMACK HIGH SCHOOL
MERRIMACK, NH

OUR CLASSIC SCHOOL DAYS

The alarm sounds, resounding in our heads. This rude awakening marks the beginning of yet another exciting day at MHS.

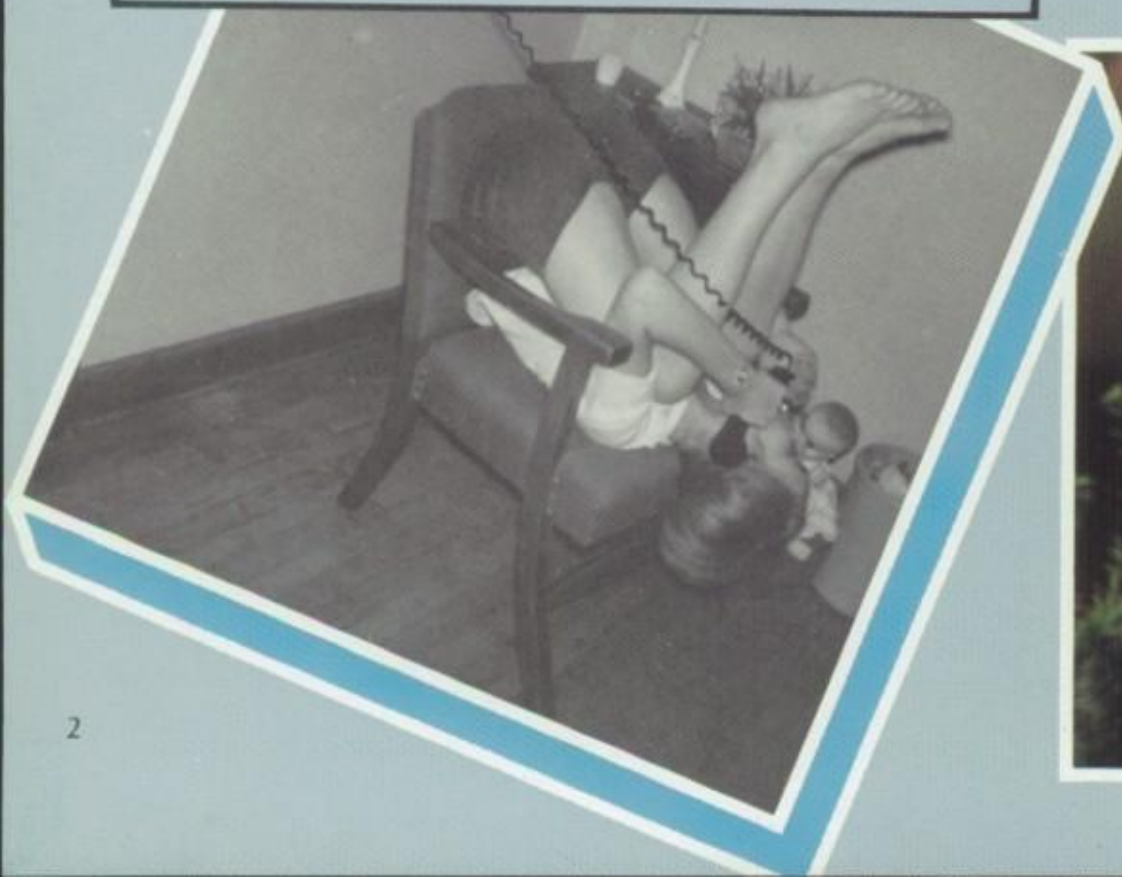

Remember how we loved the first grade? We outgrew that sentiment long ago. Now we live for vacations and groan at the mention of schoolwork.

The weather is one of the greatest influences on our attitude toward school. If it's sunny outside, the day is wasted by going to classes. If the day is dreary or stormy, then the day is too depressing to attend school. And, of course, no one should have to go to school when it is cold outside!

No matter how reluctant we are, high school is a necessity we must endure. After the first week of each year, we are back in the same routine. In the four-minute passing time, we rush to our locker, trying to make it to our next class on time. Why does it have to be true that we can never get the right lock combination when we are in a hurry?

Finally we open the locker, grab our books, and break into a run to reach class, risking life and limb in the process. The hallways are jammed with people who seem to forget all manners they might have known once the bell rings. We fight our way through the mobs to slip into the classroom just in time. We find our seat and slouch down with a sigh. We prepare ourselves for the next 50 minutes, at which time we must face the horror of traveling through the hallways again.

The school day is a struggle, but some days are better than others. What will we remember from the day-to-day drama of going to school? Will we remember the traffic jams in the halls, or the snow days we all prayed for? We may look back and laugh at the time when we tripped on the stairs, or dropped our books in the middle of the hallway.

Our Classic Problem

"You have to budget your time." It sounds so easy, but it is one of our biggest problems. Time is often the greatest obstacle in the way of completing a task. We struggle to squeeze 25 hours into 24, only to find it doesn't work.

In our hectic years at MHS, time is short. Homework, activities, jobs, and important things like talking on the phone are all crammed into one day. Sleep, something we need the most, is often sacrificed. "I'll go to bed early tonight," we promise ourselves. Unfortunately, at 9:30 pm, we remember the English paper due the next day and have to pull another all-nighter.

At the end of the year, we look at what we have accomplished and pat ourselves on the back. We exclaim how the year flew by and wonder why it passed so quickly. With everything that we are doing, we take no notice of the time, aside from there not being enough of it.

We complain that there aren't enough hours in the day because we always have something to do. Budgeting our time, however, is a large part of our education. We mature and learn responsibility as we suffer from those nights with no sleep. Even if the day had more hours, there would never be enough for all we want to do. We would simply try to fit in more activities.

OUR CLASSIC PREOCCUPATION

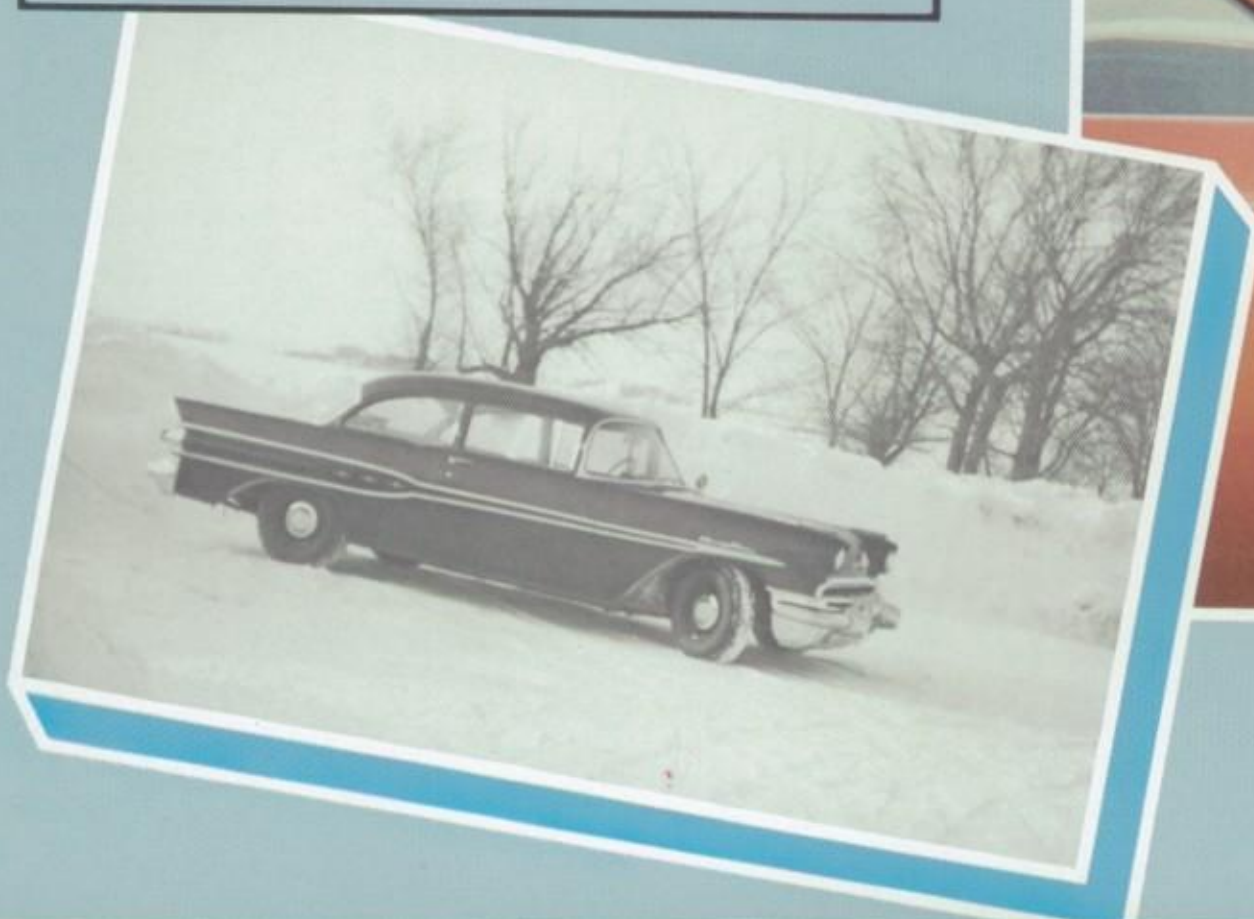

A common preoccupation of ours is cars. Cars are important to teens, regardless of the sex, age or era. Driving is a pleasure and problem untouched by time.

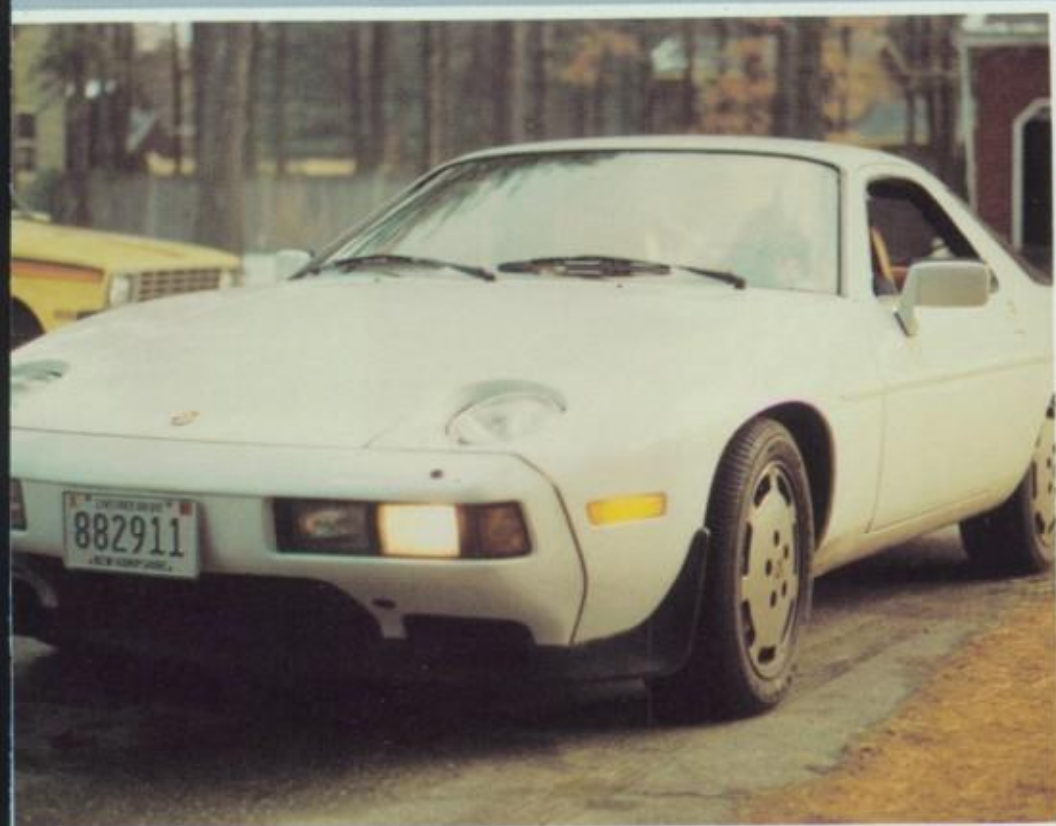

As "youngsters", we dreamed of zipping around in Porsches or Ferraris. We wished for a '67 Mustang or a Rolls Royce. Whether it was a modern sports car or a first-rate classic car, the thought of that sleek, gleaming creature made our mouths water.

Classes for driver's education made the dream a reality. We were so close to "being in the driver's seat." The classes were extremely dull, but it was worth it to lower insurance costs.

The necessity of money drove us to what might have been unthinkable measures before. The thrill of driving consumed us, but the cost of driving a car assaulted us. Suddenly insurance costs were unbelievable, and paying for gas every week really stretched our wallets. Concerns about money overwhelmed us as we realized the responsibility that comes with a car.

After the first six months, driving is no longer a guaranteed high. Those who dragrace or go "four wheeling" still get thrills from cars, but most of us take the comfort of a car for granted, unless we have a car that might as well be taped together it has so many problems. Whatever the condition of our car, we forget how we waited for the day when we could drive. We forget the first surge of power and control we enjoyed sitting behind the wheel of a car. Yes, driving is of the utmost importance to us. Some regard it as a necessity of life, but most recognize it as the privilege it is.

OUR CLASSIC PASTIMES

Contrary to popular belief, academics are not an all-consuming part of everyday life. Rather, most students are involved in a variety of activities, for a variety of reasons. Some organizations service the community while other groups are school-related, but the majority of our activities are strictly for recreation. Whatever the reason, the pastimes we choose provide us with social relations, diversity in our lives, methods for developing our talents and a means of putting gas in our automobiles.

School-related activities vary with the tastes of the student body. Intramural and team athletics, band and musical clubs, artistic endeavors, special interest organizations and student government are some of the groups to which students devote their time. Community service groups also occupy our time. Part-time jobs are the most popular form of extra-curricular activities due to the high motivation factor.

Our interests outside of school help to make us the individuals we are. We develop our tastes and strengths through activities we choose. We meet people in organizations who share some of our interests, yet expose us to new ideas. All in all, the activities we choose to take part in broaden our awareness and enrich our style of living.

OUR CLASSIC MUSIC

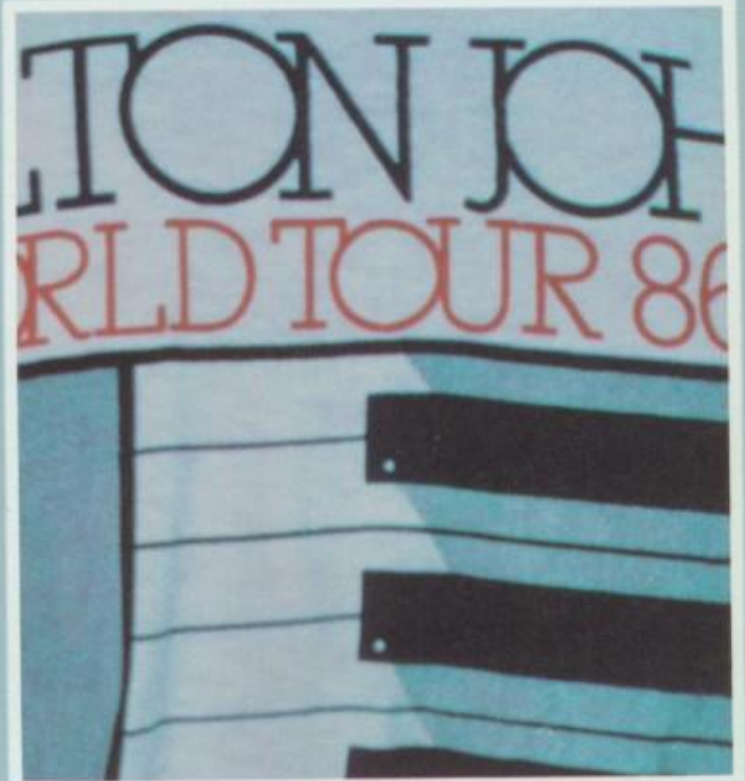

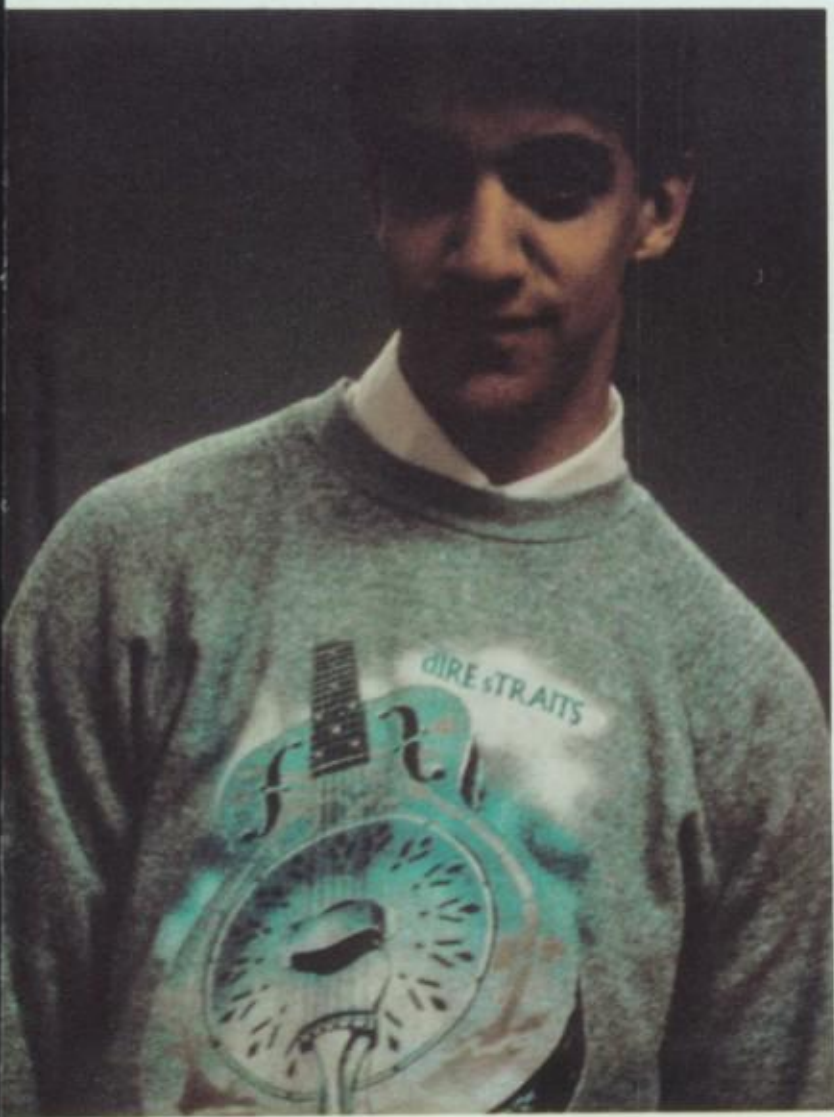

An integral part of our lives during high school is the music we choose. Playing some type of music is second only to breathing.

Music is an accompaniment in itself. We listen to tunes at parties, at the beach, while we run, when we do homework, and while we get dressed. We wake up to musical alarms and fall asleep to crooning tapes. We listen to music when we are mellow, when we are upset and when we are excited. We would rather listen to the music played in supermarkets than withstand complete silence.

The variety of music is overwhelming, to say the least. Some of us merit heavy metal, while others prefer punk music. The classic sounds of past eras are popular with some of us. The Monkees and The Beach Boys are only two of the many groups caught up in the revival. Reggae music also has a following of listeners. Of course the "top 40" songs are popular, or they wouldn't be in the top 40.

The music we listen to is classic for our time, no matter what type it is. It represents our taste as individuals and is an intimate part of our lives.

OUR CLASSIC FRIENDSHIPS

No matter how much of an individualist a person may be, no one can live without friends. We all need support and encouragement from people who care. We all need to spend time with people who understand and like us.

The most vivid memories are of times spent with friends. Our true personalities are revealed outside of school, and friends see us at these times when we are truly ourselves. They enjoy the same pastimes and recognize when we are at our best. They stay with us, however, when the odds seem to be against our survival. They remind us that the good times are not lost and the depression is only a temporary state.

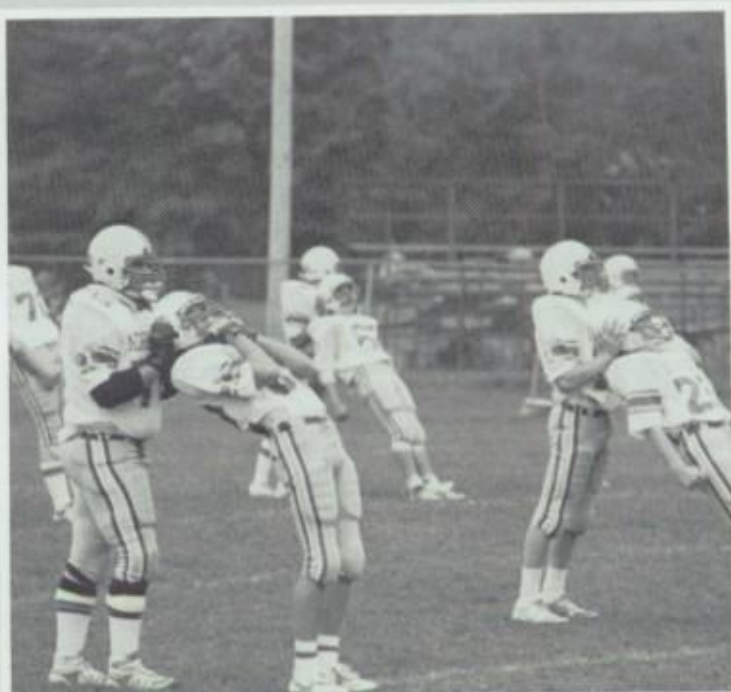

The demands of friendship can be taxing at times. We try to be around to support friends when they need us, but that is not always possible. We regret the times we cannot help our friends, although it may be better that way. Other times we are too concerned with ourselves to listen to someone else's problems. Once we realize our selfishness, we overcome it, but we feel guilty for not supporting them from the start. Sometimes we have to do things that will help the people we care for, but that they can't do themselves. They may feel angry and betrayed, and although we aided them, we suffer in the face of their anger.

Withstanding both good and bad is what makes a friendship classic. They are special, timeless relationships that we do not forget. We often grow apart from old friends and find new interests and make new friends. The memories we share with people, however, will stay with us. For it is in friends that we see ourselves as the unique individuals we are.

OUR CLASSIC STYLES

How can we pin down the style of this year? When we consider how we dress, we realize that there is no set style. Being in style consists of not being in style. Mismatches, odd prints, faded denims . . . anything we put together works. And big-big sweaters, Dad's shirts, baggy pants, and long skirts are all in style, simply because they 'don't fit. We know we are dressing right when mother says, "Is that the way it's supposed to look?"

How little she remembers. With the resurgence of the 60's, we are looking more like our parents once did every day, yet still different. Peace signs reappeared, but the meaning is a little different twenty years later. But different, or not different, is okay. The right to choose is yours.

That's the beauty of it, no one really cares! We can dress as we please, whether we choose to go with the flow or swim upstream. Style this year doesn't mean we religiously read Vogue or GQ for the latest update. Style is more a "personal flair". We have finally come to the realization that clothing is more than something to preserve our modesty. Our clothing fits our lifestyles. What we wear is part of who we are.

So whether we dress conservatively or liberally, extraordinary or ordinary, we are still rebels. We rebel against any set style and any dictated fashion. And that is what makes us individuals.

"Classics," the teacher said, "endure through time."
 And they all copied it down dutifully,
 Except one. One thought, "Why is it that
 The Iliad and Huck Finn are classics?
 Are the words extraordinary?
 Are the ideas complex?"
 And then one thought, "No."
 For classics, be they novels, works of art, or even songs
 Are based on love, fear, hate, envy, wonder, peace, hope.
 Emotions a Puritan felt when his first son was born.
 Emotions an Indian woman felt when she saw her village destroyed.
 Emotions one feels when one enters high school, goes to the prom, graduates.
 Emotions common to human beings as a race.
 We are united in this way
 For we all feel love, fear, hate, envy, wonder, peace, hope.
 And so the books, the songs, the art
 Are not classics,
 We are.

STRONG

TOMAHAWK
TEAM

Varsity Football

The Varsity team, record-wise was not impressive, but for those who attended the games, you will realize that we lost some close games. Against Londonderry, who finished undefeated, we played on even terms and gave them their hardest contest. The team finished strong with two wins at the end of the season against a play-off team, Somersworth, and a come from behind win over Bishop Guertin. The team graduates nine seniors who will be missed next year. We have a challenge ahead of us for the 1987 season, and the preparation begins now.

The 1986 J.V. Football Team

The primary goal of the J.V. football program is experience. This year's team gained valuable game experience while showing excellent potential for the future. The team exhibited true proficiency on defense allowing an average of only 9.3 points per game. This is especially significant in light of the fact that three of the games were played against Division I teams. Offensively the team exhibited good balance, scoring on the ground as well as in the air. This year's J.V. team met their challenges with considerable success. It is hoped that they will meet next year's goals with continued success - the challenge of Varsity football.

Everyone knew our first year playing Varsity soccer wasn't going to be easy. But with a group of eager players directed by a coach who cared, the challenge was set. Stronger competition, greater intensity and the agony of defeat were some of the things we experienced in our first year of varsity soccer.

Injuries forced many of our players to watch from the sideline but the spirit was always there. A talented group of individuals will return next year. This team can only get better. As captain of this year's team I hope next year brings Merrimack a championship! Special thanks goes out to all of my team mates for their hard work and great attitudes. My co-captains Nicole Barbuto, Jen Pirog and Chia Movizzo were instrumental in establishing the desire to win and quality leadership on and off the field. Coach Bill Sousa, thanks for all the time, effort and patience. Your role has not been easy but your "Never Say Die" attitude helped build our Varsity program.

Good Luck to all future girls Varsity soccer teams!

1986 Girls Varsity Soccer Season

Despite a frustrating season of 5 wins and 9 losses, the girls soccer season was a successful one.

A major goal was achieved! Looking beyond the team's record, one sees a truly competitive group of athletes.

Furthermore, a large majority of the team will be returning with experience.

In conclusion, next year's team will be seeking a play - off spot in the Class State finals.

Best wishes to Captain, Kris Trapp and co - captains Chia Movizzo and Jen Pirog who will be graduating in June.

1986 Boy's Varsity Soccer

What a season to remember! So many positive events happened during the 1986 Varsity season. This season saw a big change in the classification of teams in N.H. The state adopted the same classification for soccer as they have for basketball - 4 divisions instead of just 2. This made the chance for making the tournament better. We set our goal for the season to make the tournament. Not only did we make it, but we had home field advantage in the first round. We finished the regular season at 8-5-1 and in 8th place. And not only did we make the tournament and have home field advantage, but we went on to beat Manchester Central 2-1 and advanced to the quarter finals. The quarter finals found us losing to a tough Nashua team 2-0, but we found consolation in the fact that Nashua went on to the finals and only lost by 1 goal in a shootout.

This team worked hard all season to reach their potential. They not only reached it but went above it. The most satisfying point in the whole season was to see the boys "hang in" together for 11 weeks. There were very few problems among a team of 23 kids. It was one of the easiest seasons for me to coach because the kids wanted to do well. After letting up 24 goals in our first 7 games, the guys "rose to the occasion", letting up only 12 goals in their last 9 games. To summarize our success I would give 2 important reasons: Rich Ramelow and Dave Fredriksson - the two captains. These two kids were such leaders on and off the field, setting by example as well as by their role. To them, the team owes a special thanks. And to the team, I owe you all a special thanks. Best of Luck in the future Seniors. Underclassmen, get ready for the 87 season. It should be another great one.

FIELD HOCKEY WORKING HARD

1986 Varsity Field Hockey

Our 1986 season has been a good one. The girls' field hockey team worked long and hard. Though we faced several tough beginning games, the team improved. The Varsity team came back to Salem and Laconia, after first game losses to them, with a 1 - 0 win and a 1 - 1 tie respectively. Our team definitely made its presence known on the field in each game they played. We will lose 6 good seniors, Nancy McShea - a four-year Varsity player, Sue Streeper, Kristen Johnson, Laura Hatfield, Lisa Maduzia, and Kim Osga. Our strength throughout the underclassmen and J.V. team should fill the void. I'm proud of them as a team and as individuals. They have represented our school extremely well. Thank you, girls for another great season!

Girls- Characterized by a young team consisting of one Senior, two Juniors and five Freshmen. After a slow start they finished with a 6-6 record. The underclasswomen are very talented and we are looking forward to a lot of future success.

Boys- First year team which started out slowly but as the year went on the team gathered momentum. After a 1-5 start the boys improved to end with a 4-8 year. Like the girls team we have a lot of talent in the underclassmen and we are looking forward to a great future.

1986-87 BOY'S VARSITY BASKETBALL

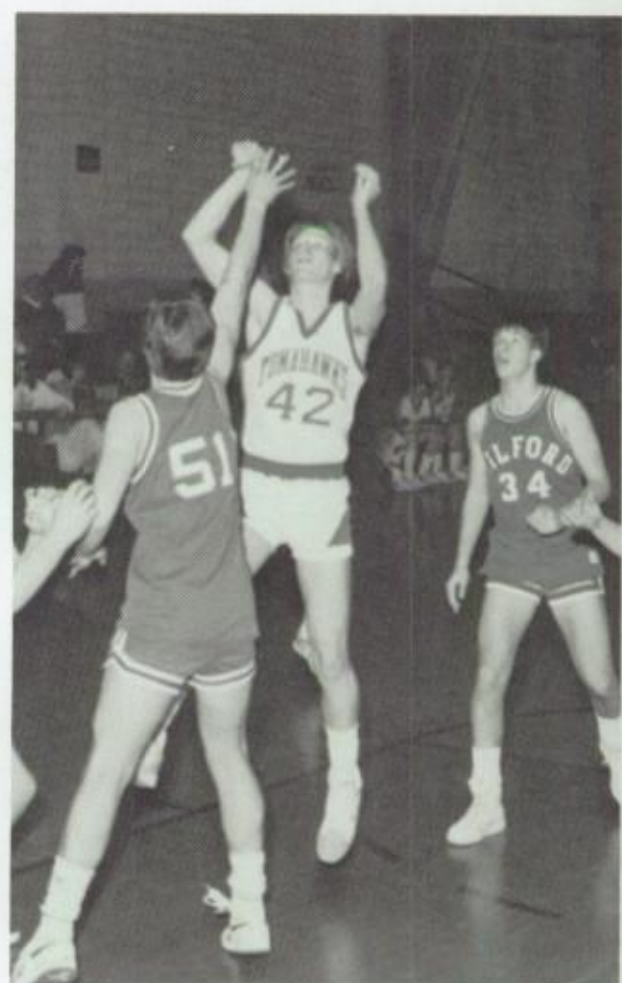

People are going to look back on this team and remember that they were 22-2, that they won the Bishop Guertin Christmas Tournament for the first time in Merrimack High School history, that they were #1 ranked in Class L and regular season champions, that they were ranked #10 in New England, that they lost in the Final Four to the eventual state champions and that they posted the #1 defense in the state, only allowing 51 points per game.

I, too, will look back on these memories with pride. These will not be my fondest memories, though. It is not every coach that is given the opportunity to work with a team like we had this year. Twelve individuals worked as one with one goal to be #1 in everything they did on and off the court. In 22 years of being involved with sports I have never been associated with a group that has defined the word team better. Not being state champions was a disappointment, but the biggest disappointment was saying good-bye to Jim, Ken, Mike, Wayne, Greg, Doug, Bill, Tom, Dan, Chris, Dean and Rich, the 1986-87 Merrimack High School Varsity Basketball Team. Remember: If you can believe it, you can achieve it. "BELIEVE IT!"

This year's freshmen basketball team was led by two outstanding co-captains, Jim Hunter and Pete Perreault. The young Tomahawks were rather inconsistent over the first half of the season, and continually had a difficult time winning on the road. Ultimately, the team finished with a record of 7-7.

One of the season's highlights was the dramatic one point victory over Pinkerton Academy. This was sweet revenge after losing to Pinkerton by 34 points earlier in the year. Another high point came in the opening round of the post season. Bishop Guertin Tournament versus Timberlane. The boys put forth an outstanding team effort, and paced by Chuck Julian's 21 points, came away with an 8 point victory. This win was Merrimack's first in the past five visits to the tournament.

The Timberlane win allowed the Tomahawks a chance to take on the #1 ranked, West Blue Knights. The team played tenacious, full-court, man-to-man defense throughout the contest. In spite of being physically over-matched by a pair of 6'3" "twin towers," the squad held strong, finally succumbing to a hard fought 8 point defeat.

Throughout the season, the freshmen were paced by the outside scoring of Pete Perreault, Eli Morse, and Chuck Julian; as well as the inside punch of Jim Hunter, Billy Pollock, and Mike Gulderstern. Others making key contributions were the excellent point guard play of Matt Quinn, and the versatility of Paul Perreault and Kip Leonard.

Overall, it was an extremely enjoyable season for both the players and this coach. I was fortunate to be able to help them grow as individuals and improve as a team. If they continue to work hard and strive toward their goals, all members of the team will continue to excel.

TRIUMPH!

The 1987 Girls Basketball Team

Unity was the key of this years season. Looking back, our success was more than just winning basketball games. Trust, honesty and dedication all played a part in bringing the team together. We stressed the importance of respecting each other, we would not allow our team to become a "combat zone". With Miss Corriveau and 12 special individuals we "TRIUMPHED" as one!

Kris, Jen, and Chia top to bottom (L-R): Give me that ball now! Hey, where did she go? Kim checking out the opponents. What kind of call is that? I know I can get it in!

The 1986-1987 girls' varsity basketball team chose "TRIUMPH" as their motto. Their 18 and 5 record and trip to the semi-finals of the state tournament proved that they had lived out their motto.

When you look at the letters that make up the word triumph, you can see that they were more than lucky dogs to get to the Final Four. They had worked hard because they knew what it takes to TRIUMPH.

T= TEAMWORK
R= RESPECT
I= INTENSITY
U= UNSELFISHNESS
M= MOTIVATION
H= HUMILITY

You see, TEAMWORK based on RESPECT developed the INTENSITY that was necessary to play our best. UNSELFISHNESS was the MOTIVATION that created PRIDE in their team and HUMILITY as individuals.

To Jenny, Chia and Kris, we certainly went out as winners! And to the whole team I want to thank you with my love and respect.

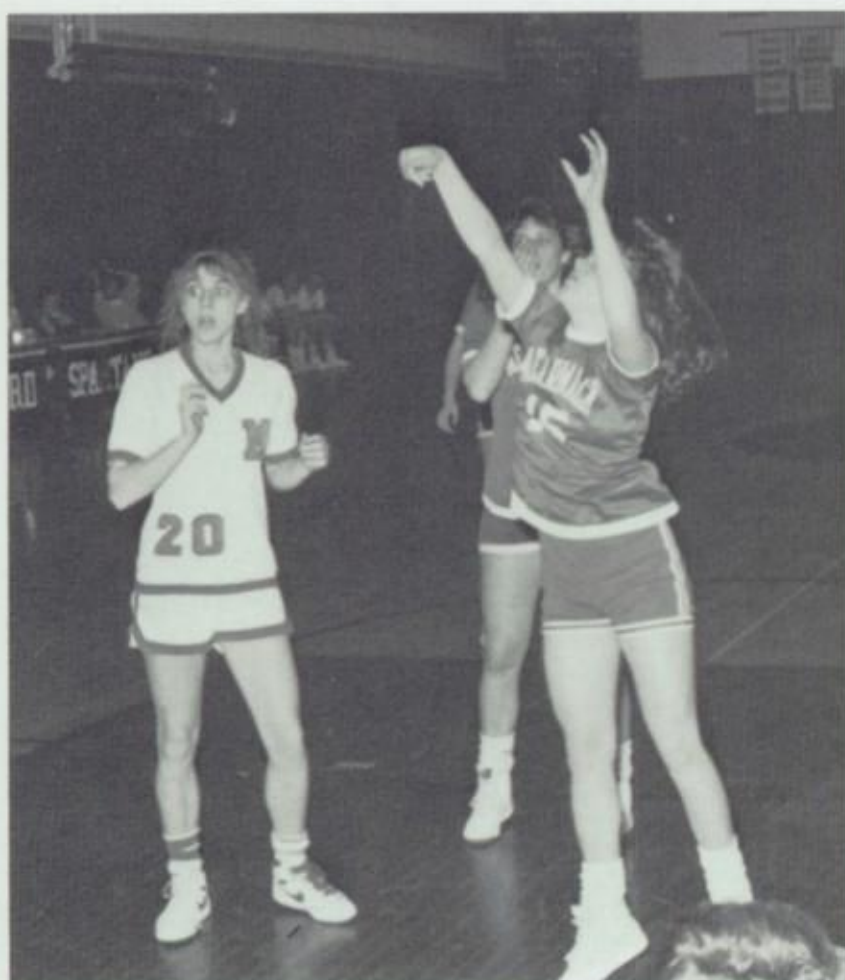

Coach Corriveau

1987 JV Girls Basketball
 The 1986-87 basketball season was a success from the start of the season to the end of it. The teams overall record was 10-8. Of the eight losses, two were by one point and another games was lost in overtime. The high point of the year was the last game of the season when Merrimack beat Alvirne in double overtime. More importantly, the players worked hard all year on the court and in the classroom and produced improvements in both areas by the seasons end.

What A Winter It Was!

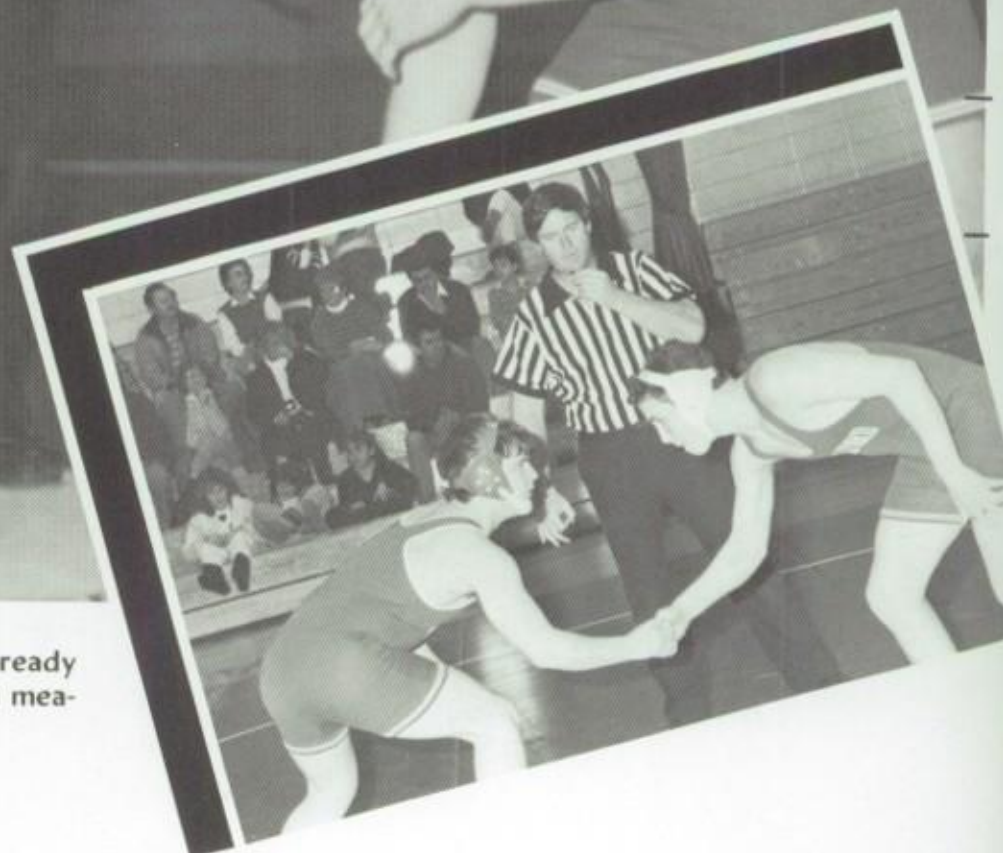

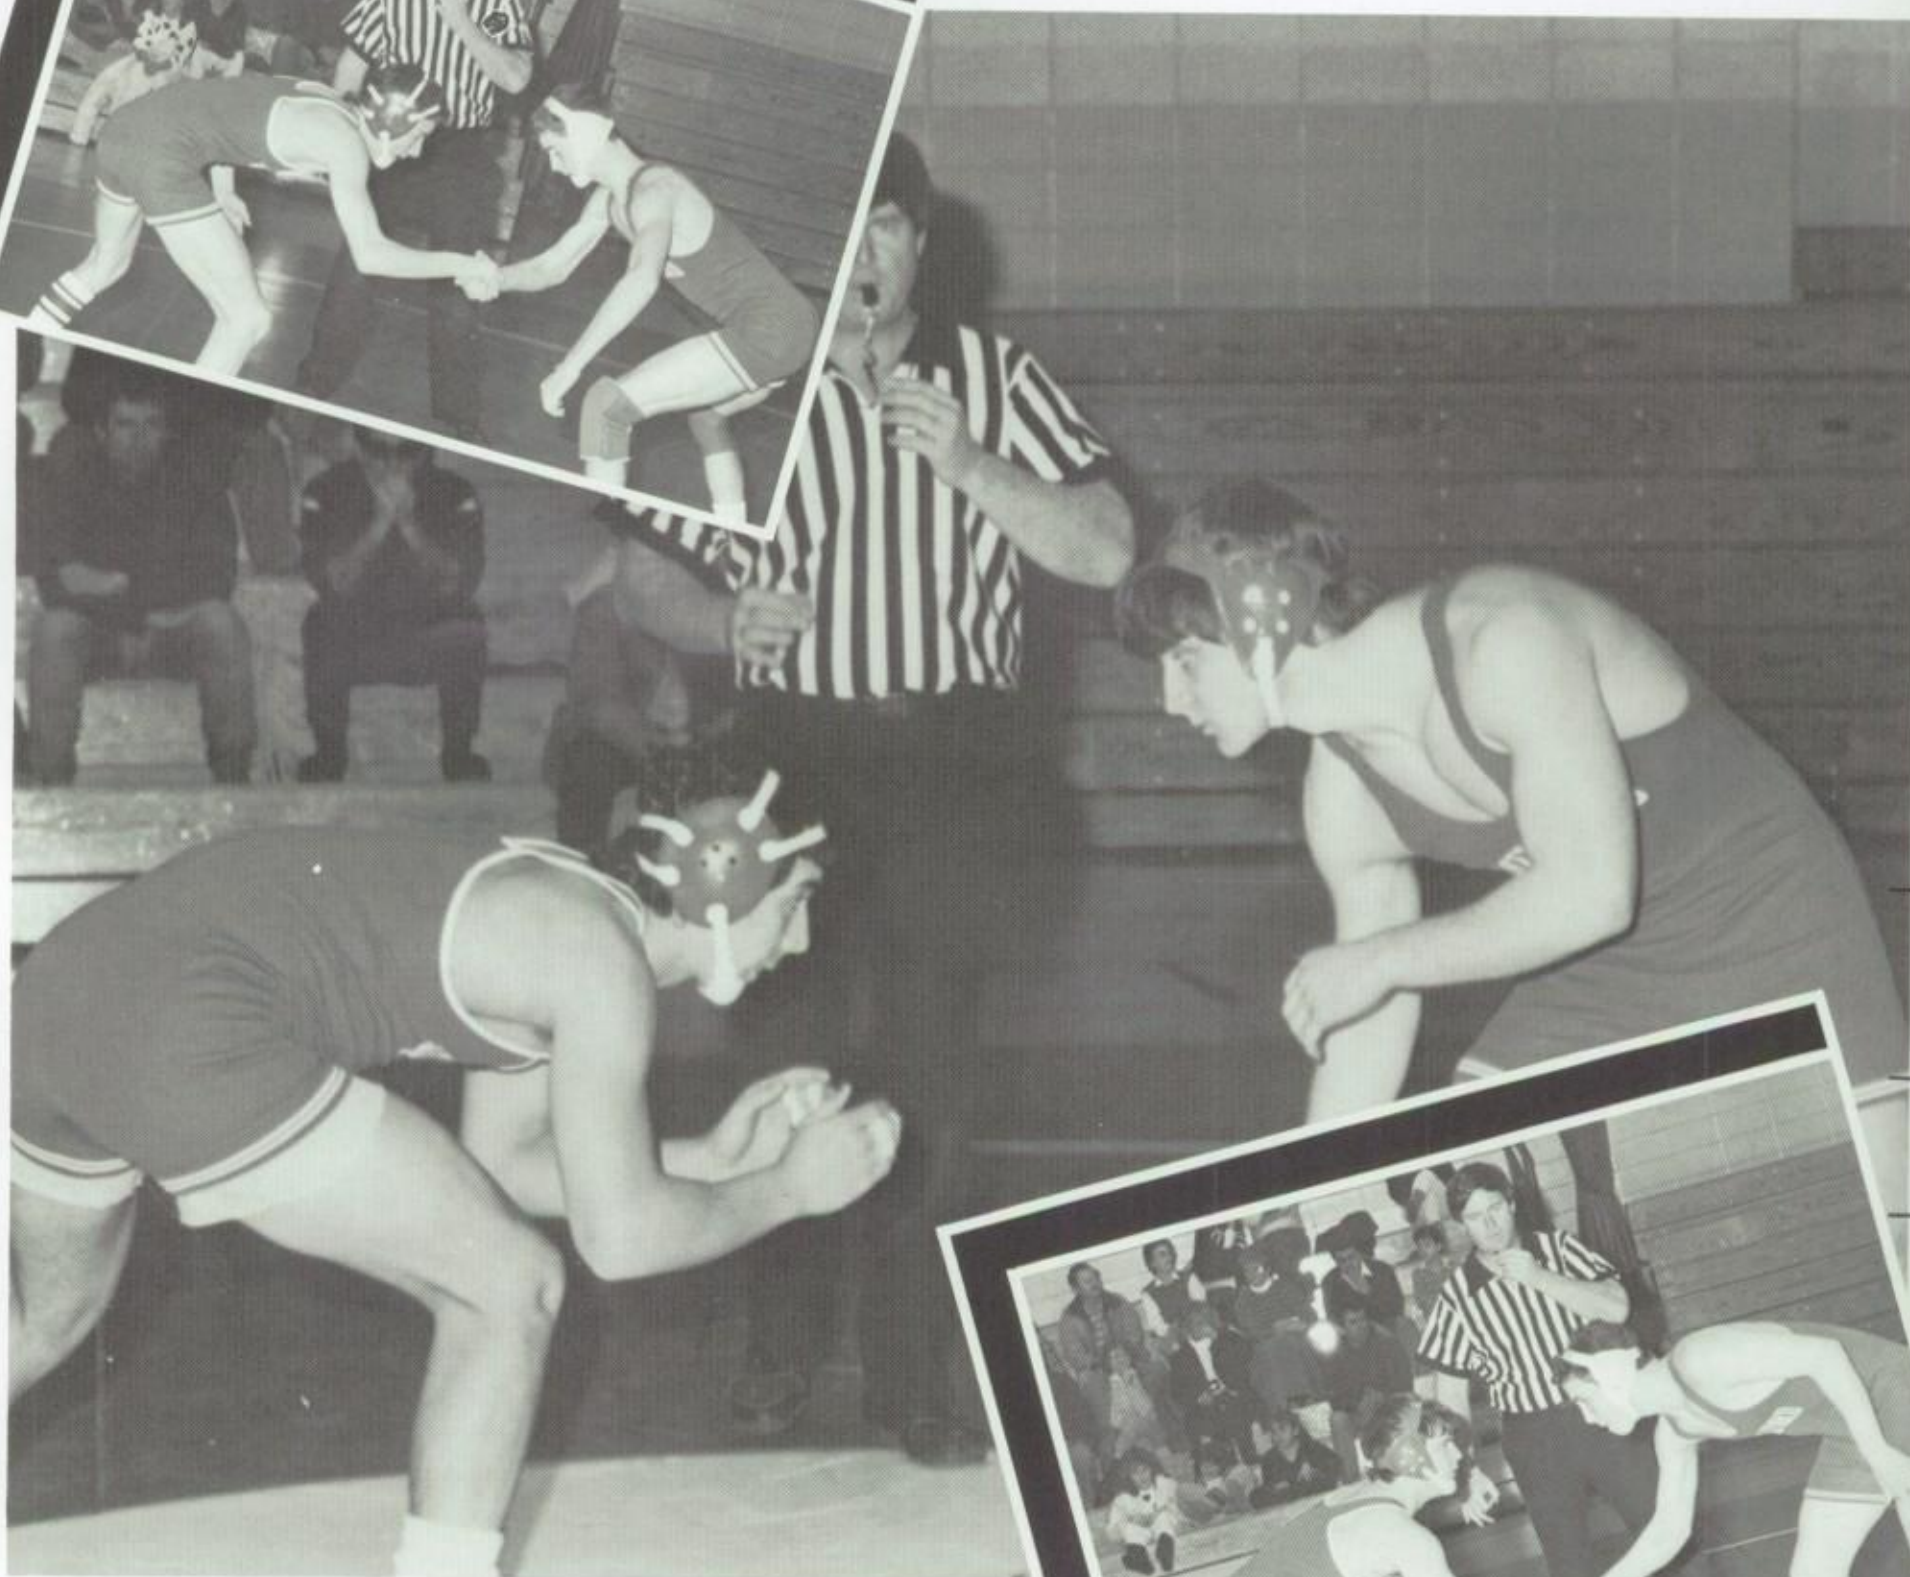

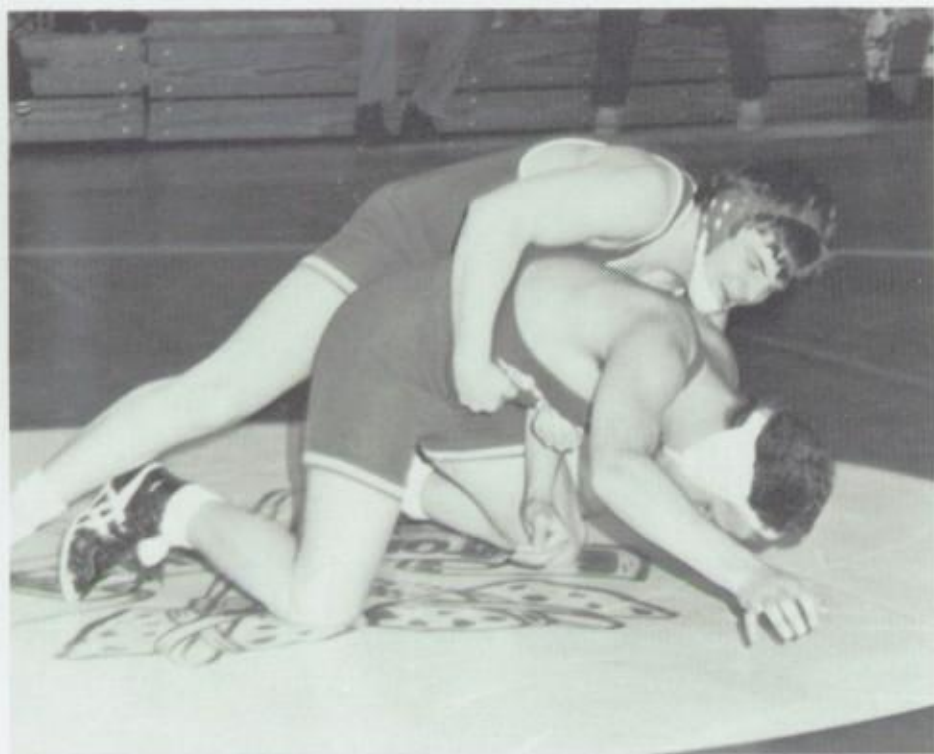

Varsity Ski Team

This year Merrimack wrestlers made the transition from club to varsity team. Placing well in their first year, the team has high hopes for the future. As the team continues to grow, we wish them the best of luck in the years ahead.

Top to Bottom: Alex Barcza waiting for the whistle. Gary Brewster-ready to fight. Brian Leblanc preparing to make his move. Jason Hilton measures up his opponent.

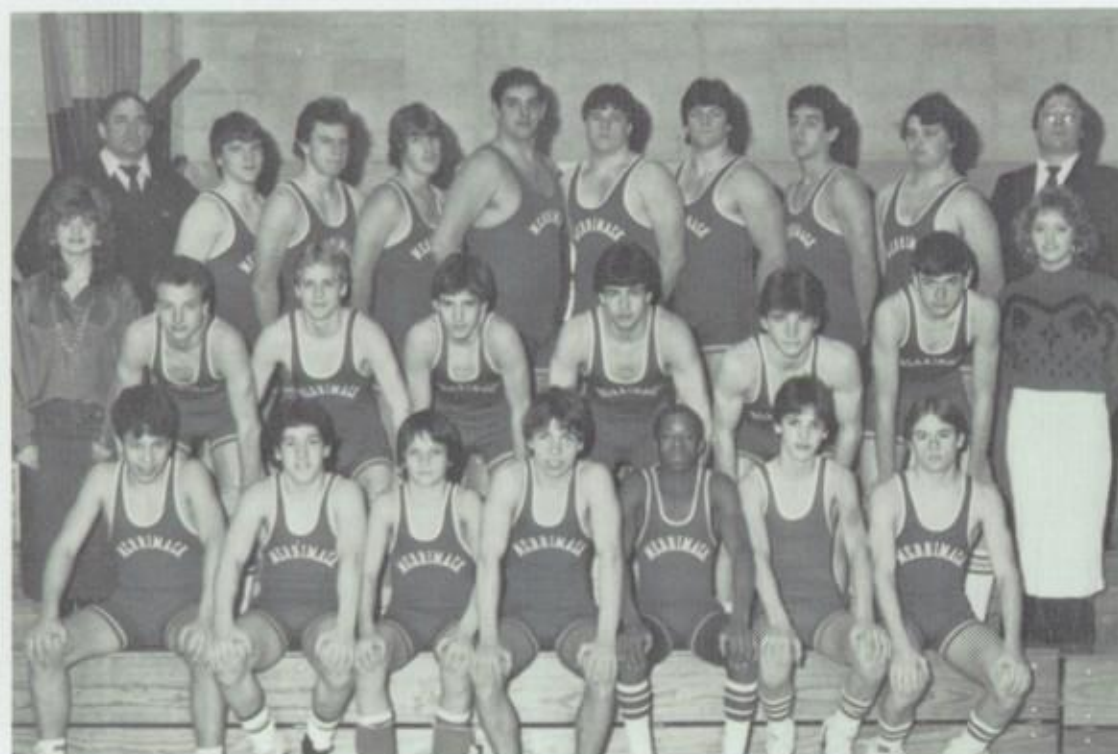

The varsity wrestling team finished its first season with a respectable 5 and 10 record. Eight upperclassmen returned to the program when it moved from club to varsity status. There are seniors—Brian LeBlanc and Gary Brewster; and juniors—Don Tupper, Alex Barcza, Jason Hilton, Steve Schwed, Pat Richard, and Steve Krasinski. These men are the "pioneers" of Merrimack wrestling.

Joining the team this year was a large crop of freshmen and three talented sophomores. These boys will form the nucleus of very competitive future teams.

Season Highlights:

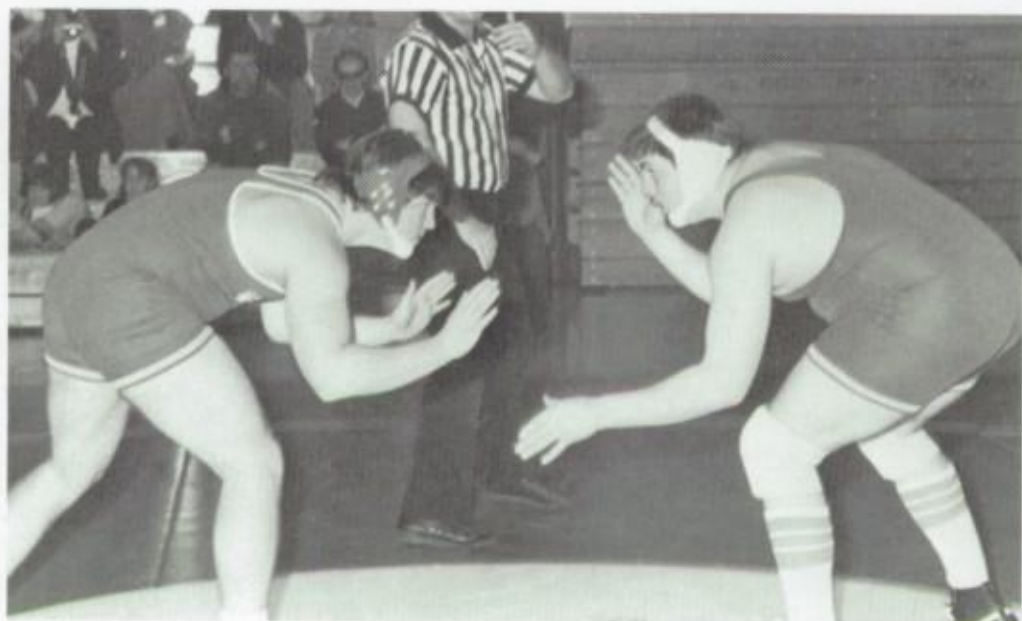

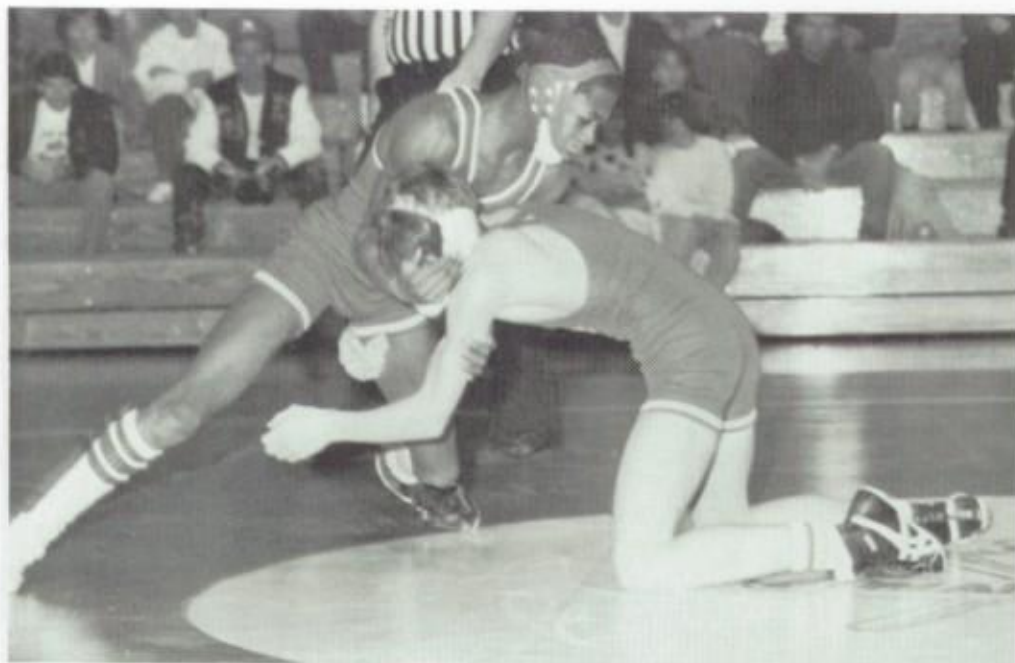

- Winning the first tri-meet against White Mt. Regional H.S. and North Country Union
- Steve Krasinski placing 4 at the Salem X-Mass Tournament.
- The Freshmen placing 3 out of 19 teams at the Cardigan Invitational.
- Jason Hilton having a 9-4-1 Varsity dual meet record.

Congratulations to the Class of 1987. The entire Guidance Department wishes all of you good luck in whatever direction your future takes. Continue to work hard at reaching your goals and remember that things don't come to those who wait.

Best Wishes,
Richard W. Walker
Coordinator of Guidance Services

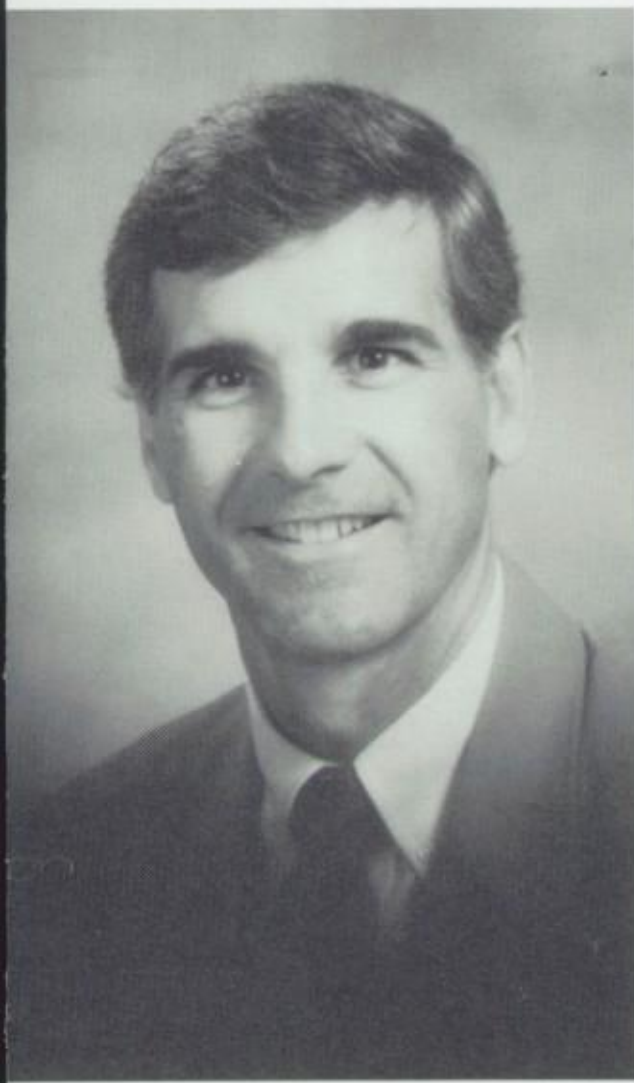

Principals

To the members of the Class of 1987 I extend a most sincere thanks and best wishes. You are about to enter a new beginning. You will face new challenges. When we think about how quickly the last four years have passed, it is apparent that when a moment passes by it is gone forever, and nothing can recall it.

In Shakespeare's words, "What's done cannot be undone." Therefore, let the future be yours; make the world and your place in it what it ought to be—Positive, Productive, and Rewarding. It is and will be, what you make of it.

Fondly, and with best wishes always,
Dennis J. Pope

UNDERCLASSMEN

A Classic

When asked to reflect back on their underclassmen years, graduates gave many different answers. They all centered around the same ideas. They said that high school is a time for fun, friends, fashion, hard times, hard work, dreams, and individuality. Senior year drags the pressure to make life-long decisions, so have fun in your underclassmen years.

CHUCKS.

Many people have them, but they are all different. They represent the individual who wears them. They are colored and written on in so many patterns. Some people keep them clean and do not write on them. Others are covered with graffiti, ripped and torn. They can be worn to skate, work, or play. They were once very cheap and could be found in the five-and-dime store, but now their popularity has made a comeback, giving them a new name and a more fashionable image. Chuck Taylors are the original sneaker. No two pairs are ever the same.

BEST FRIENDS

As we entered the unfamiliar halls of the high school, the first thing we freshmen sought was a friendly face. At this time we realized that our friends meant the most to us. Coming to the high school was a big step and we couldn't do it alone. Each class began with the hope that our friends would be sitting in the next seat. For most the hope was satisfied, but the unlucky ones made new friends quickly.

So we found new friends in our classes and grew apart from those we never saw. Our best friends, however, were always with us. There was always that shoulder to cry on when we had "one of those days." An ear was ready to listen and, a heart was ready to give advice. There was someone to share our dreams and goals, hopes and fears.

Eventually we found our place in this school and had some fun times. There are going to be many changes before we leave. Even though friends come and go, those dearest will have a place in our memories.

And so the freshmen year raged on. The adjustment was tough, but we finally fit in. Soon enough we can look at the next freshmen and see how scared we looked. We will probably remember how it is, though. Maybe we'll be nice but, then again-maybe not.

I spent a long time trying to come up with something classic about the sophomore class. For the freshmen, it's their first year in high school. For the juniors, it's learning to drive. For the seniors it's graduation. But what about sophomores? Is there anything classic about this class? Well, the sophomore class is the time for change. No longer a new freshman, yet not quite an experienced junior. Still carefree, yet introduced to tough decisions. This class is stuck in the middle. No real spectacular or extravagant characteristics. But there is something classic about this sophomore class. Something no other class can claim. We are special. We are the class of '89.

As these Sophomores can tell you, one sport that is really classic is golf. Gym class prepares us for the major swings and precise techniques of eighteen-hole golf, but, how many of us are actually going to develop these skills? Most people prefer an exciting afternoon of miniature golf. With the opening of the new Putt-n-Strut in Merrimack, we can play this game almost any time. Any bright sunny afternoon in spring, you and your friends can take off to the playtime world of tiny houses and churches, windmills and barns, and happy animal characters. Just grab a bright colored ball and a club your size. You can face the challenge of hitting that small sphere into a hole that looks even smaller. That thing never goes where you want it to. It's always stopped by the obstacles and traps that you were trying to avoid. If you're lucky you can hit a hole-in-one! Now, total up your final score with the three-inch yellow pencils, and take that card home to remind you of the classic sport of miniature golf.

So you want your hair cut. But how? Sniked? Bleached? dyed? The possibilities are limitless. An effort to be unique has brought quite an array of "classic" haircuts. You say your mother doesn't like it? Well, what did you think, of her beehive hairdo? Come on- use your imagination- what would you do with this doll's hair? It's an art, and your masterpiece will be displayed wherever you go. After a few months the canvas is wiped clean. Paint a new picture, and be original. After all, aren't you?

As Juniors, getting our licences means the freedom we've dreamed of for sixteen years. Now we can finally buy our "classic cars". Most us dream of a Ferrari or a BMW but who has the money for that? Most get used cars or Dad's old Oldsmobile. The first thought that hit my mind was, "No more school bus!" However, that was the thought of every Senior, Junior, and Sophomore in the school. This created a huge parking problem which the whole school hears of on the intercom. "Would the following students please move their cars." Outside of school a car is the best thing to have. Now we don't have to ask our parents to drive on dates or with our friends. We can go anywhere and do anything. This is freedom!

"Friday, the last day of the week. Only two periods and I'm out of here," you think. Your thoughts are elsewhere, making plans, not on the teacher's lecture. You know that during the pop quiz Monday you'll wish you paid attention, but you just can't keep your mind focused on your work and your eyes focused on the board. Whatever the teacher just said doesn't make sense and you slowly try to come back to reality. "Andrew Jackson did what?" you ask yourself. "I'll figure it out Monday."

A Classic

THE PROM

The night? Friday. The date? May 16, 1986. The occasion? The Class of 1987's Junior Prom. Just another traditional prom right? Wrong! Although the prom was held at the traditional location of the Sheraton Tara in Nashua, a new twist was added. Although it was the typical scene for an M.H.S. prom, the Class of '87 chose to make this not just another prom. Alongside the Prom Queen was instituted a Prom King and his court. The queen was Chia Movizzo crowned by former queen, Diane Donohue. The first king was Rich Ramelow. Entertainment was provided by Hot Property and the theme song was "Faithfully" by Journey.

HOMECOMING

Friday, September 19, 1986 marked the beginning of an energetic Homecoming weekend at M.H.S. High spirits were first seen at the pep rally and then again Saturday afternoon when the Tomahawks faced the Winnacunnet Warriors. Despite the weather, dedicated Merrimack fans filled the bleachers. Unfortunately, Merrimack was defeated by the Warriors.

Before the game, the traditional motorcade from the Commons to the high school was led by Homecoming Queen, Jenny Proulx and her court: Junior Darleen Bowman, Sophomore Denise Bouvier and Freshman Dana Baldessari.

That night, despite the loss, the Homecoming dance was a great success. So many people showed up that there were people waiting outside to come in. All in all, Homecoming weekend was an exciting one.

HALLOWEEN

Halloween is a traditional day at Merrimack High School. Every year the students dress up in Halloween costumes to show their class and school spirit. Prizes are awarded to the best individual and group costumes. This year the "tooth family" won first prize for the group prize and a member of Kiss won first prize for the individual prize. The senior class tried to unite this year and all dress up as members of the mafia. Many seniors participated in this. On Halloween, M.H.S. usually has an assembly to see all the people who dressed up and entered the costume contest. They did not have this this year because of behavioral problems in the school. Maybe next year it will be brought back.

SENIOR SEMI FORMAL

The Senior Semi Formal was held on January 17, 1987. The Semi almost did not take place because not enough people wanted to go. At the last minute enough people bought tickets to have the Semi. Last year this happened too but they never had their Senior Semi Formal. The people who attended this event enjoyed themselves a great deal. The meal was catered and a band played for dancing enjoyment. Overall the evening was a great success.

THE PLAY

"Evening of the Arts" was held on December 11 and 13, 1986. It was directed by Mrs. Thompson. The night was full of various skits including dance, pantomime, dramatic interpretation, duet acting, one act play and student artwork. The cast members are Jessica Altruda, Kresla Storey, Lhea Thomas, Tracy Dudman, Denise Orlando, Byeongsook Seo, Todd Zahares, Ed Gerety, Laura Heymann, Chris Linday, Lucy Torpey, Michelle Albert, Sasha Gillette, Carrie Jordan, James Acosta, David Fredriksson, Rob Jolin, Wendy Speer, Pam Norton, Derek Hodgkins and Mike Caulfield. The performances were terrific. Good job crew!

A CLASSIC YEAR

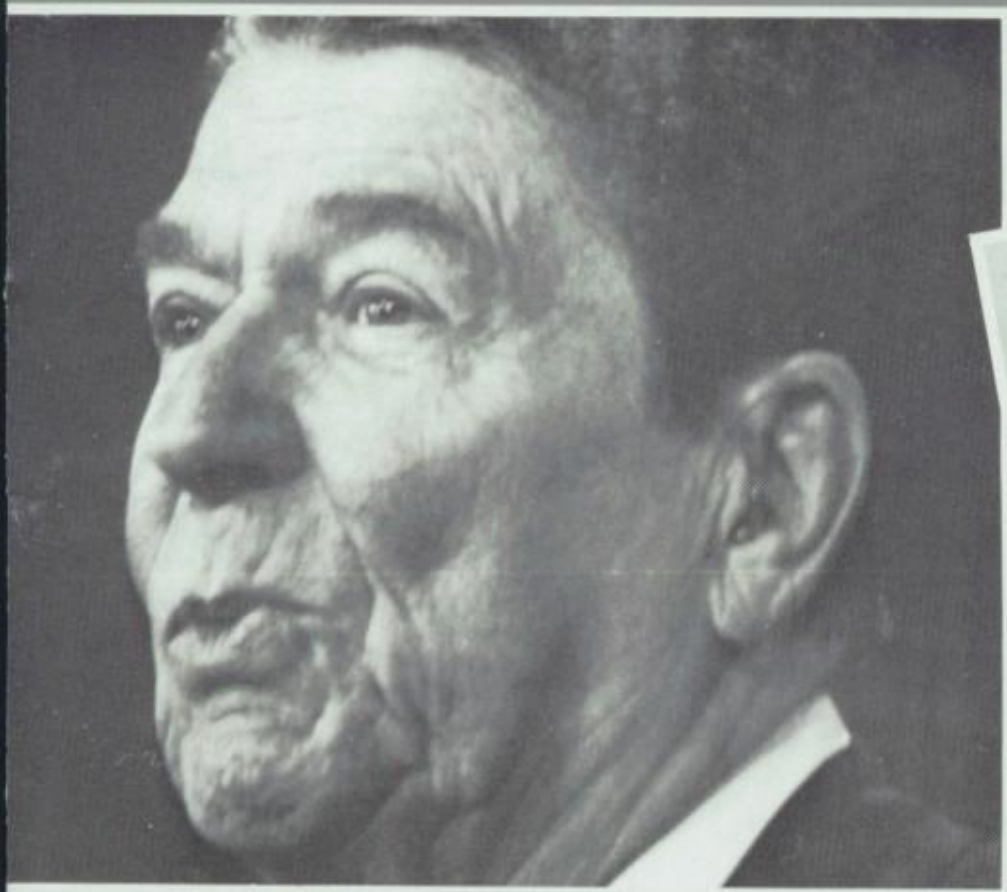

Every year brings new fashions, new forms of entertainment, new preoccupations, and new problems. It is the events and concerns of the time that make each year a classic. The things which make this year different range from imagined Soviet takeovers to troubles on Wall Street.

The stock market has always run on rumors, but this year it is overrun with wild reports. Insider trading is a real problem, but U.S. attorneys are buckling down and punishing those who are trading stocks on inside information. One of the early convictions was in November. Ivan Boesky (top left) was fined $100 million for his crime.

Lady Liberty (middle left) celebrated 100 years with a grand ceremony after her reconstruction. New York Mayor Koch said, "It's going to be the party of the century." This party included a 20-ton fireworks show.

The major National concern is the Iran-contra scandal. After 3 months of investigating, the Tower commission released its report. The report indicates that President Ronald Reagan (bottom left) did not have control over this affair and let his advisors have too much authority. Although many aspects of the scandal have not been thoroughly investigated, heads have rolled. Col. Oliver North (bottom right) and National Security advisor John Poindexter, as well as Chief of staff Donald Regan, have resigned from office after pressure from the president. Another advisor Robert McFarlane, whose testimony revealed much, attempted suicide under the stress.

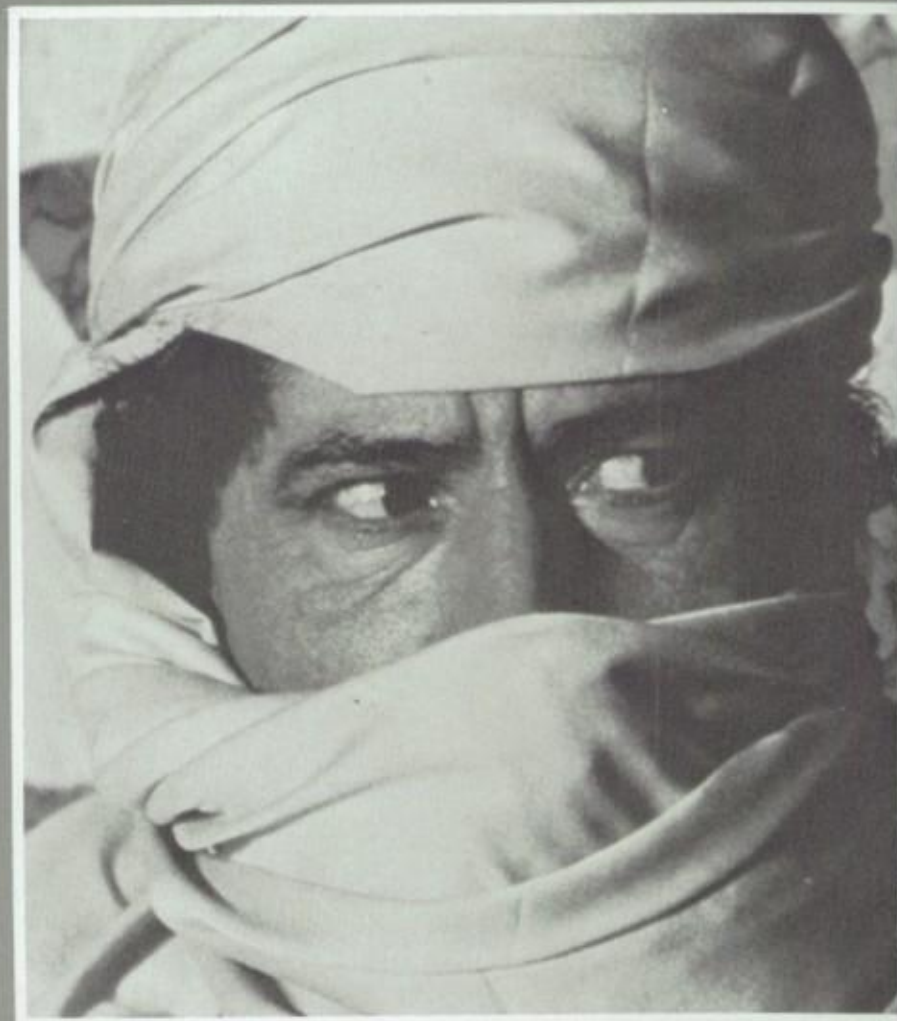

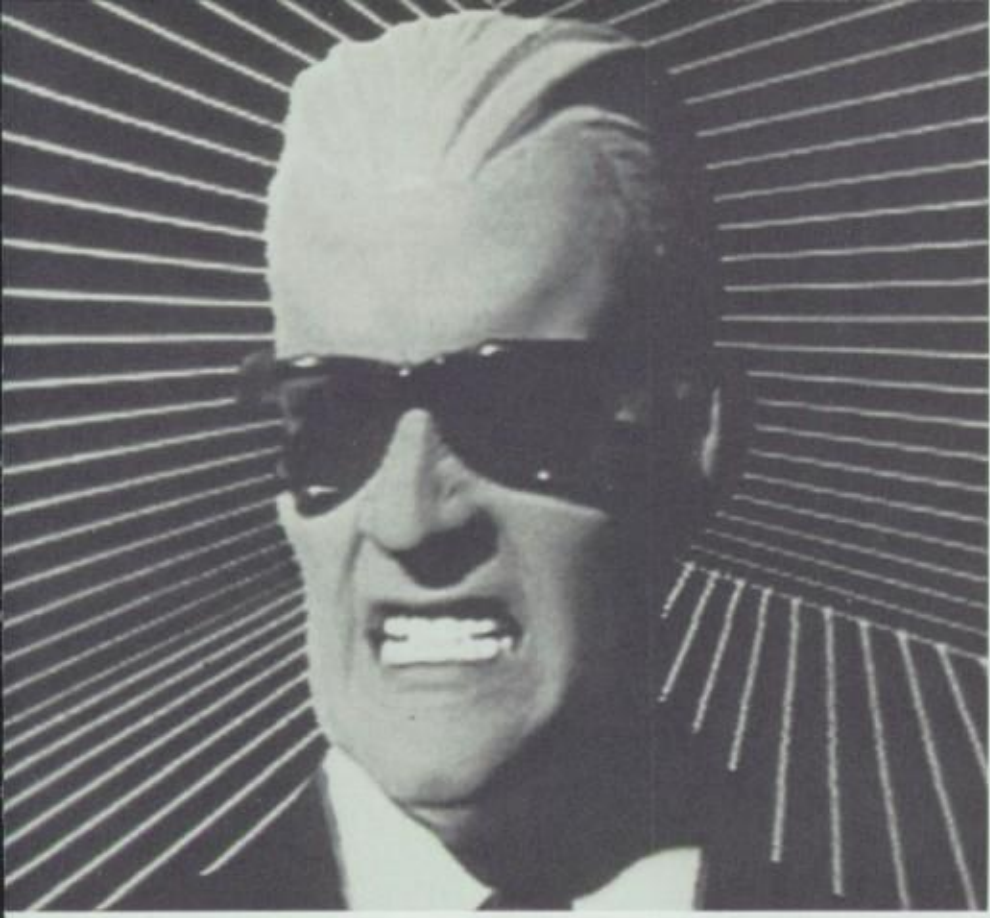

Sweden was the first to detect abnormal radiation when Chernobyl suffered a reactor explosion on April 28. 135,000 people were evacuated, and 31 were injured from the initial explosion (One of the victims, top left), although the effects of the accident will be felt for a long time. Radiation was detected in Italy, Britain, and as far as New York in the U.S. Controversy over nuclear reactors flared after this accident. (Mikhail Gorbachev, top right)

Many famous people married this year; Shriver and Schwarzenegger, O'Neal and McEnroe, but none put on a wedding like the British. Prince Andrew and Sarah Ferguson (middle right) tied the knot at Westminster Abbey on July 33, despite public dismay over Ferguson's legs.

President Reagan took the offensive to fight terrorism on April 15 and attacked Libya, a country supporting terrorist activities. Planes from the U.S.S. America bombed Tripoli and the surrounding area. Six weeks after the air raid, Muammar Gaddafi (bottom right) said, "We are capable of striking and exhausting America . . . We must prepare to die."

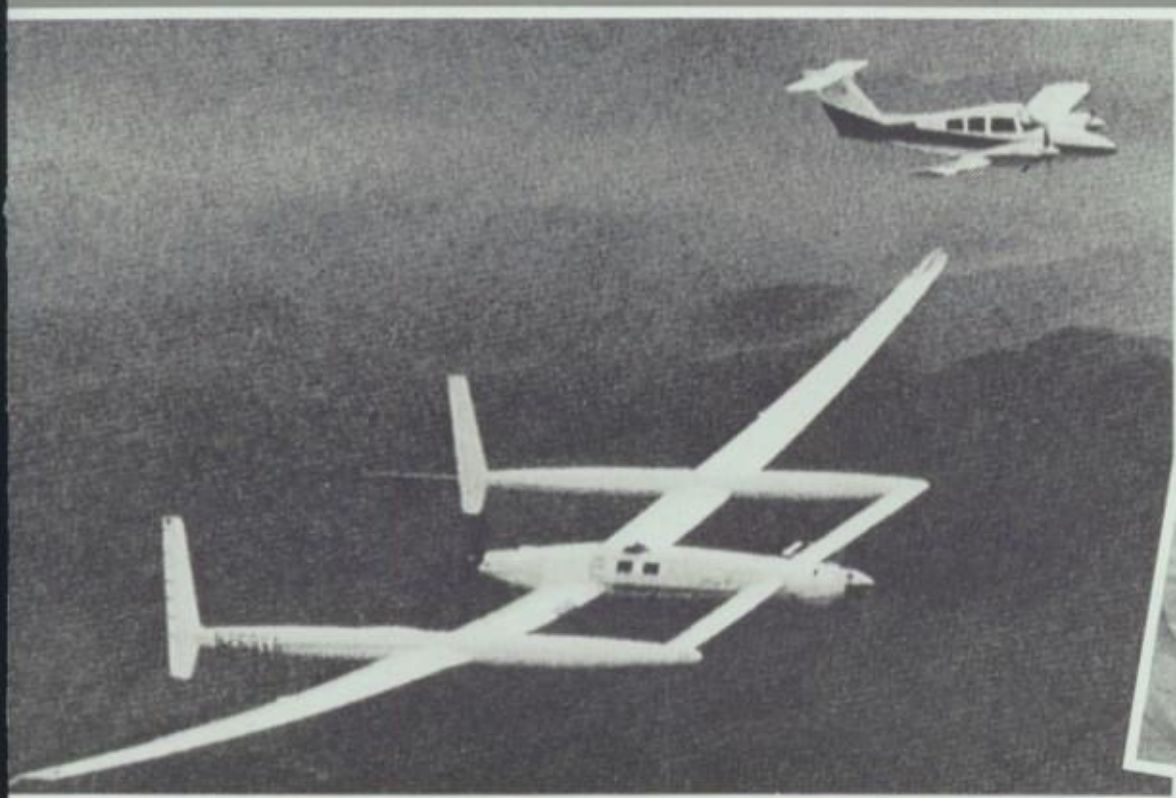

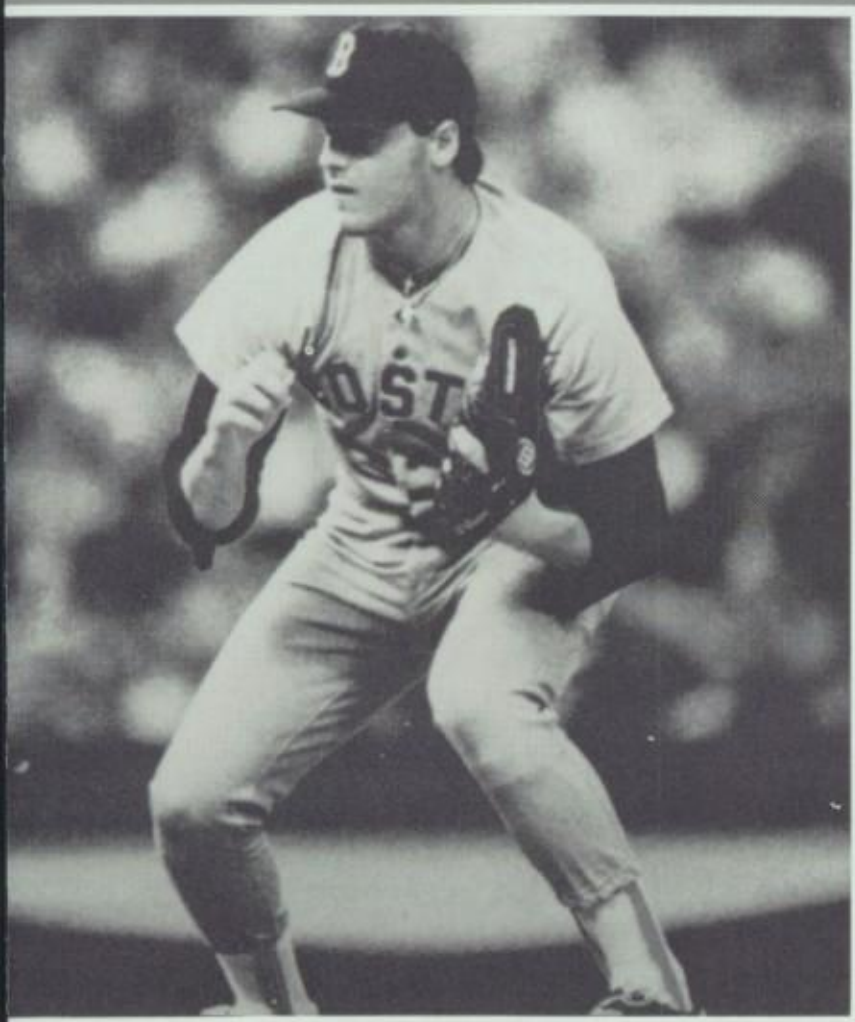

This year marked the birth of the first computer-generated host. Max Headroom (top left) is a Coke representative and also has his own video. He is actually Matt Frewer, whose voice and face are distorted by special effects after the fact.

Roger Clemens (middle left) was one of the star pitchers of the Red Sox during the 1986 season. He shocked the public this winter by refusing the Red Sox final offer of $500,000 for one year and removing himself from the camp.

Voyager's trip was said to be a "flight of fancy, of quaint possibility." The first plane (bottom left) to fly 23,000 miles around the world with no stopping or refueling marked a milestone. Burt Rutan designed the aircraft, and his brother Dick and Jeana Yeager (bottom right) piloted it. They had some trouble taking off and landing, but overall the trip was a success. Voyager traveled an average of 110 miles per hour, slow compared to the speed of today's jets.

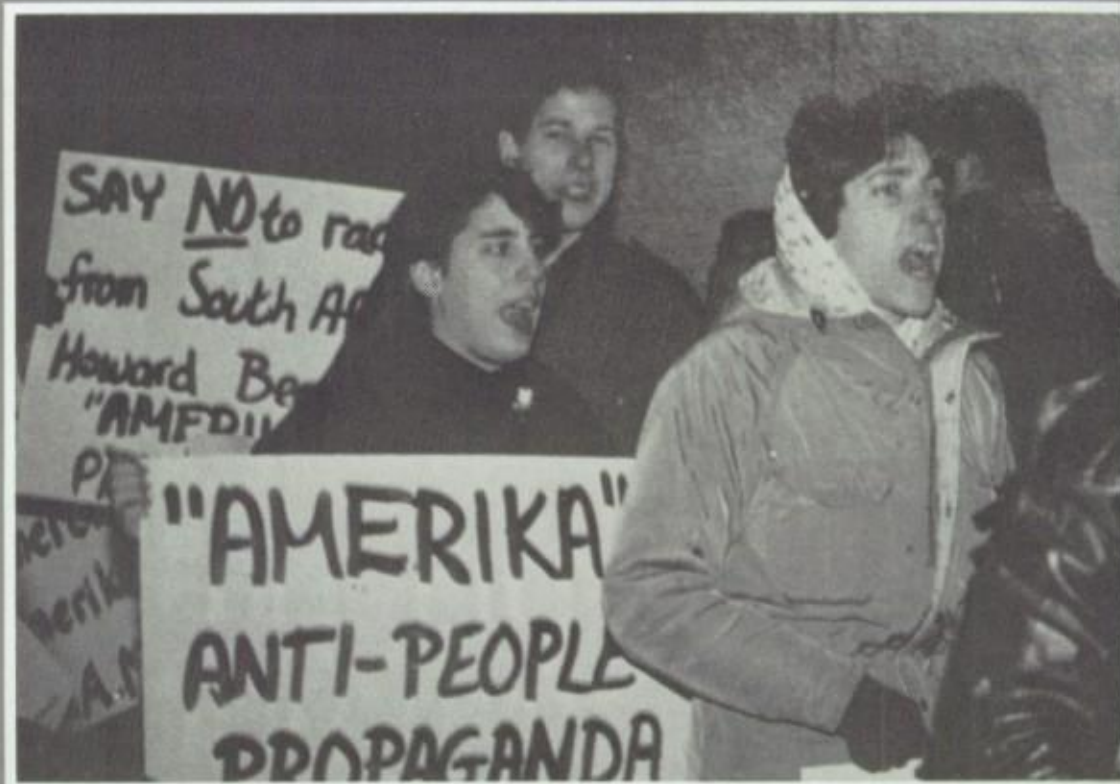

David Letterman attracts 3.7 million viewers, and some wonder how he does this. It can't be the ridiculous pet tricks, dropping watermelons from buildings, or getting people to do stupid things like balancing dog biscuits on their nose. Letterman explains it in just two words . . . "I'm nuts," he says.

Another dubious star of the media is Vanna White. She turns the letters on "Wheel of Fortune" which has 43 million viewers. "I have no explanation. My gosh, I just turn letters on a game show," Vanna says of her fame. While the reason for her popularity is puzzling, it is certain that game shows have become increasingly popular. An astonishing 3 dozen game shows survive today. This may be the new American dream—the lure of big money, glitzy prizes and beautiful costars spark a desire to be on one of these shows.

Paramount Pictures prepares to celebrate 75 years as it enjoys "the greatest year of any company in the recent history of the movie business." One of its many top grossing movies is "Crocodile" Dundee. This Australian import made more than $103 million at 1,495 theaters. Paul Hogan (middle right) stars in this saga of a crocodile hunter in Manhattan.

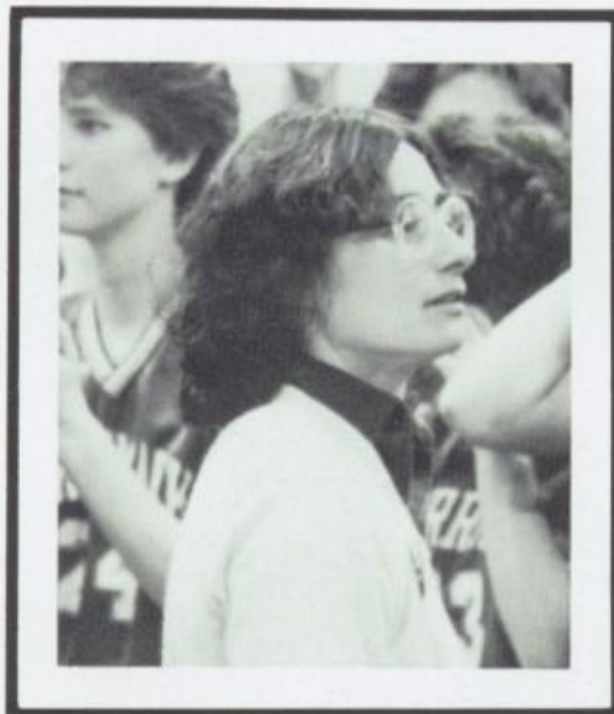

ABC aired a mini-series about a bloodless Soviet takeover in the U.S. The film was a result of a conservative push after the liberal film The Day After. Unfortunately, Amerika had more controversy than it did quality. Few viewers, liberal or conservative, tuned in to the 14 and ½ hour drama. (one scene from the movie, bottom right)

GIRLS HOOP MAKES FINAL FOUR

LUCK
GINNY

In our quarterfinal game against Concord the support of our fans and the intensity of our senior tri-captains put the game way beyond Concord's reach. Chia Movizzo's 20 points, Kristin Trapp's 15 and Jenny Pirog's 10 were enough to beat Concord in themselves thanks to the strong defensive pressure we applied.

It was obvious to everyone there that this team deserved to be in the Final Four.

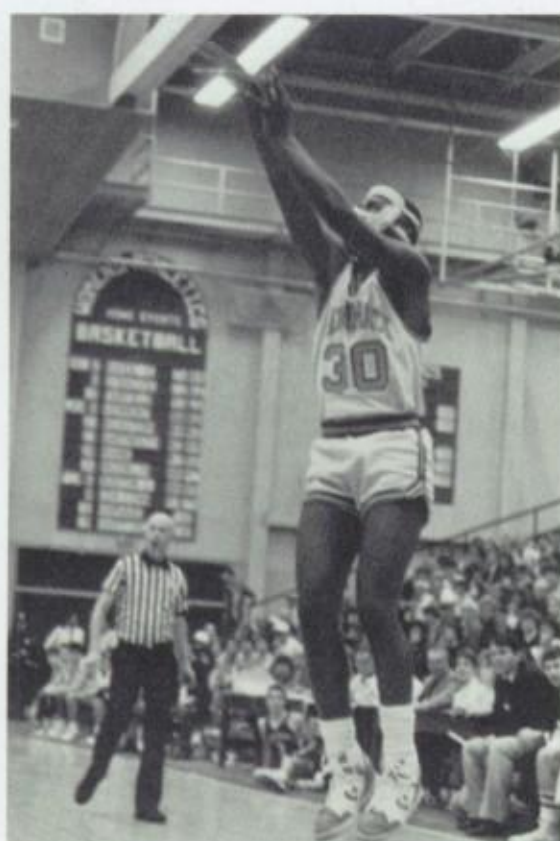

Londonderry was the only thing standing between us and the finals at UNH. So at NH College we faced the Lancers in a gym so full of fans that screaming in the huddles was even hard to hear! We fell behind on the scoreboard by 12 points early in the game. By halftime we had cut it to a 4 point game by using our running game and looking to our inside strength of Kristen Trapp and Dawn Herman. By the forth quarter we were ahead by six but our low foul shooting percent and an amazing performance by Londonderry's Dayna Sonavich ended the season early.

Congratulations to a great group of athletes and people, on a job well done.

BOYS HOOP IN TOURNEY

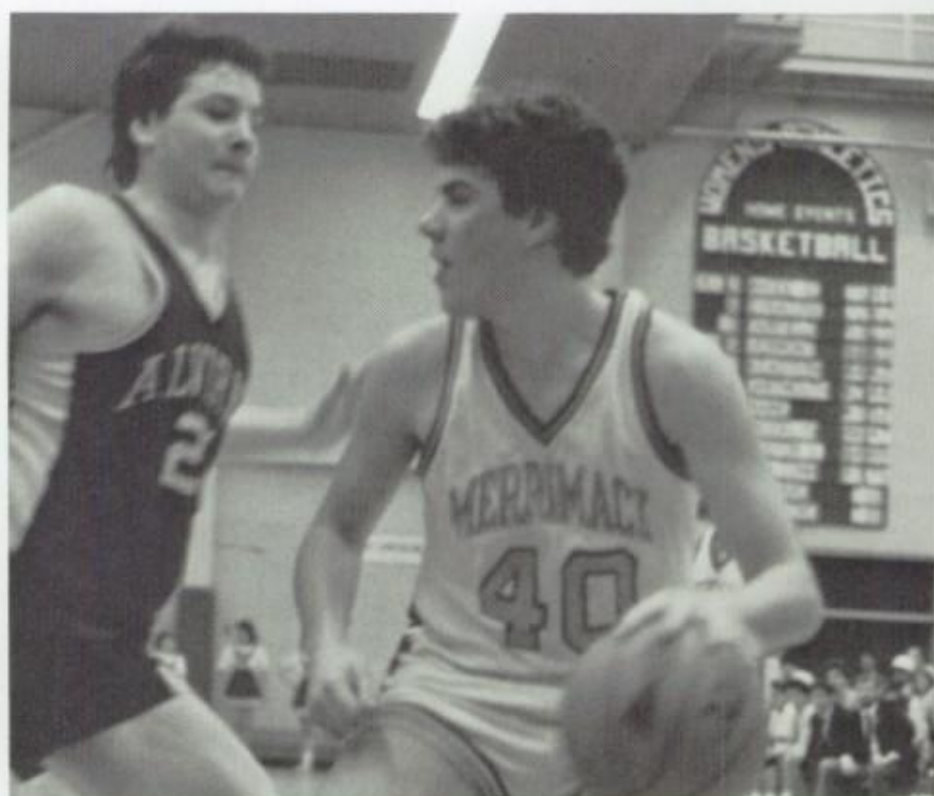

Tournament

Going to Durham the number one team always put added pressure on the situation, add to that having to play a good team that you had already beaten three times and you have a lot of pressure. The game started just as we had not wanted it to. Alvirne took an early nine point lead. Jim Valluzzi's floor leadership, Bill Clays clutch free throw shooting and Tom Thornton's low post scoring started the Tomahawks come back. As momentum slide our way everything started to our way. Ken Matsis half court shot, Greg Thomas's hot hand in the 3rd quarter, and Mike Murawski's dunk all took its toll as the Tomahawks took the lead never to look back. The final nail was put into the coffin when Wayne Collette dunked the ball in the fourth quarter to bring the large Merrimack crowd to their feet.

The final four was next Concord was the opponent. Merrimack jumped out to an early 8 point lead but could not hold on to it. Mike Murawski took charge in the second half (31 points) and aggressive defense by Merrimack kept the game close but was not enough to take the game back from eventual state champions Concord. The loss was a hard pill to swallow but we gave it our best shot and were beaten by a good team. A great year with great players, great fans and great support had come to an end. Mike Murawski, Bill Clay and Greg Thomas were selected to the All-Tournament Team.

To the Class of 1987:

It seems hard to believe that we have finally reached the end of the path that we travelled on together in unity. We entered Merrimack High School in 1983. The year 1987 seemed so far away. In the time it took us to go from being freshmen to becoming glorious seniors we have done a lot of growing up. We have found new interests, developed close friendships, and created many memories. The decisions that faced us were complex and our responsibilities never ending. Fortunately with the aid of our families, teachers, and friends, we found the right answers and accomplished our goals.

Now, we have reached the end of our journey as the class of 1987. Each and every one of us must select a new path to travel into tomorrow on. There are so many different paths to choose from but I am certain the right one is out there for each member of our class. The class of 1987 has stood united in friendship through both the good and bad times. Now as we journey on to tomorrow we will take with us the memories of today. I wish each and every one of you happiness and the best of luck in all that you pursue. Always treasure these memories and may all of your dreams come true.

Sincerely,
Christine Cayer
Your President

THORNTON'S LANDING RESTAURANT

From 1766 to 1899 a Ferry provided transportation across the Merrimack River between the Towns of Merrimack and Litchfield. Matthew Thornton, signer of the Declaration of Independence, purchased the ferry in 1784 and from then on it was known as Thornton's Ferry.

Behind this building lies an area of the Merrimack River where the Landing was located for Thornton's Ferry. The Landing was on the Merrimack side of the river and included a building with a store.

Thornton's Landing is named in honor of our country's heritage. In the same manner, Thornton's Landing Restaurant shall always aspire to maintain a tradition of fine dining.

DEDICATION

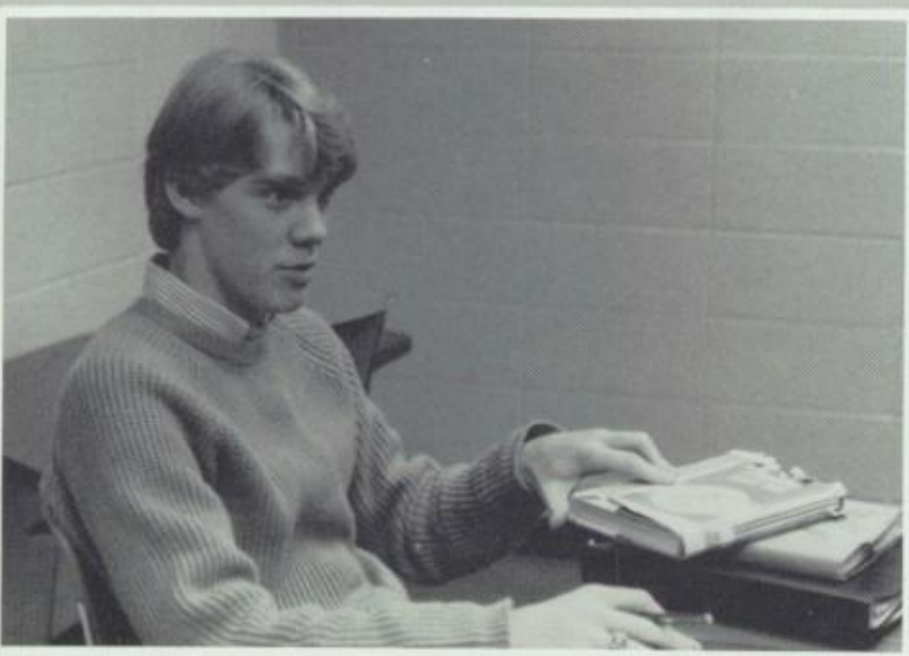

The Class of 1987 would like to dedicate this book to:
Ms. Peggy Bialy for getting us started and for all of her enthusiasm,
Ms. Sue Ruggeri for stepping in and doing a great job.
and the Parents of the Class of '87 for being supportive and helping us get through our high school career.

Hi Marc
 Thanks a lot for this lame ass picture. I look like shit. Shit
 Heather

HEY GUYS — THIS IS FOR YOU - THE CLASS OF '87

EACH OF YOU HAVE GIVEN A PIECE OF YOURSELVES
TO THE LIVES OF THOSE AROUND YOU

YOU DEFINE SYNERGISM
THE WHOLE IS GREATER THAN THE SUM OF THE PARTS

THE MEMORIES YOU HAVE CREATED WILL BE WITH YOU - AS GOD CREATED MEMORIES SO WE COULD HAVE ROSES IN WINTER.

AS YOU JOURNEY THROUGH YOUR LIFE
MAKE THINGS HAPPEN - BE EXCITED
COUNT YOUR BLESSINGS -
YOU ARE EACH SO BLESSED, SO TALENTED

MAKE YOUR CHOICES WISELY
BUT MAKE THEM
HAVE NO REGRETS -
JUST WORK AT GETTING BETTER EACH DAY

REACH FOR THE ENDS OF THE UNIVERSE
THE WORST THAT COULD BE IS YOU FALL AMONG THE STARS!

MY LOVE AND PRAYERS FOR EACH OF YOU

PEGGY BIALY

WE SERVE

Opposite page: Top to Bottom (L-R). This is my best side. SMILE!! WOW, did you see that? Hey, I'm a SENIOR! Smile you're on candid camera. What Homework? Just hangin' around. Boy that was exciting! Did you hear the one about . . . ?

This page: (L-R). Valerie Migeot from Belgium. Togall Togall! You want me to what?? What to do . . . What to do!! A dedicated color guard.

FINAL THOUGHTS . . .

To the Class of 1987:

We have finally reached the end of our high school years. We carry many memories of the experiences we have shared. Keep this yearbook as a reflection of your senior year and the times that went with it.

Good Luck in the Future,
Cathy Forbes
Editor

Many thanks to:

Kris Johnson for helping with the details and being supportive when she felt like kicking me

Matt McSorley for taking on the Business Section and making me laugh when I wanted to cry- "I guess we learned a lot!"

Kate Psilopoulos for getting me organized

Lucy Torpey and Mike Anderson for picking up the Ads section and doing a great job!

Kris Trapp for taking the time from her busy schedule to do the sports section

Staci Barrera for lasting through the faculty section and always having the right answer- FUB!

Jane Frechette for always having the underclassmen done on time- creatively!

Thyra McGreevy and Vicki Knauff for working long and hard on the seniors, and for all the rides

Erin Wonkka for meeting all of her deadlines and working without pictures

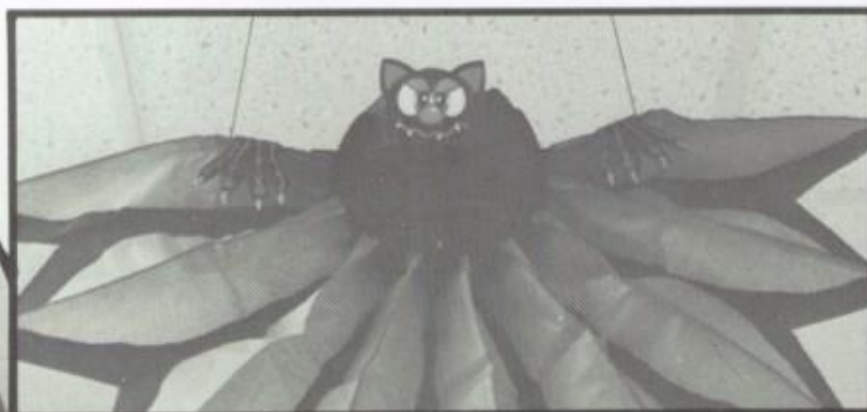

Emily Cameron, Laura Cuzzo and Chris Burney for taking super pictures, often at a minutes notice

Gary D'Amora for getting the book started

Mr. Hackett for keeping me working and calm when I was ready to jump out a window

And thanks also to:

Jen Caulfield, Heather Barry, Christine Caron, Christine Neveu, Amy Collins, Kristi French, Lisa Maduzia, Laura Maduzia, Sun Chyung, Denise Wales, Monique Menard, Tracey Hall and Jen Goulet for working hard to get all of the different sections done. Good Luck next year, Echo 1988!

It was great having you in my geom. class.
I'll probably see ya next year. Have a great summer!
Love
Tracy

Mark,

I liked those
Photos of me + Erin in the yearbook. Thanks for putting them in. They are beautiful! Have a great summer!

Hi Mark,
Geometn was a blast. You + Ken
+ John made the class. Sophomore year is great. Don't let it slip by.
6/2/87 Love,
Tam
